

This way, Clavis.

Will they be able to safely return from that situation...

They've
already lost a squad member.

Colonel-

Is there anything wrong with the team's status?

Military Intelligence

Special
Scouts i Detachment
Squad

That's
right, it's my
funeral,

Captain
Shepherd.

Alex....!

It has been a while,
Captain.

It seems like you're very busy flying all around the world...

You're
killing a bit too much?

But
don't you think-

We are getting rid of high value
targets in order to stop the genocide.

All around the world,
civil wars and rebellions
started happening
one after the other.

After
you left us, the world
changed.

Did the genocide
stop?

And...

Why did you point
your gun
at me?

That
day-

Hey
Alex...

I wonder why...

I don't really understand.

I just couldn't hold back the urge to kill, no matter what.

Do you...
hate me?

It's about time
I go.

I still can't find the hell that you were talking about.

Please
wait, Alex!

Captain Clavis.

Hell
is right here.

Even this morning...
But it
vanished as I woke up.

The
"Country
of the Dead"
comes to me once in a while.

It's been two years since Alex
died.

I am still continuing to kill people

GENOCIDAL ORGAN GLOSSARY

Military Intelligence Special Scouts i Detachment Squad

After 9/11, the American military created this intelligence special squad. Army, Air Force, Navy, Marines, and Intelligence create the five branches of the American Military, and the Special Squad is the only squad which handles assassinations and therefore is despised by the other branches. Also, there are many missions which expose the members to extreme stress, and the squad members receive counseling and psychological treatment to allow better control of emotion during combat. As a result, the squad members are able to efficiently execute their mission sets without being swayed by emotion or unnecessary thoughts.

Flying Seaweed

When directly translated, it is read as "the sky flying seaweed," and is the Special Scouts i Detachment Squad's enemy aerospace infiltration aircraft. It is a rectangular all-wing (aircraft with no main cabin or tail and is comprised solely of a main wing) aircraft with state-of-the-art stealth technology incorporated, and was named as such due to its irregular shape. Because it was originally developed as a bomber aircraft, within the aircraft frame which spans 100 meters, there is a munitions compartment, but the Special Scouts i Detachment use that space as the interlude pod storage compartment.

Interlude Pod (Infiltration Unit)

A device used by the Special Scouts i Detachment Squad during descent. There are barely any mechanical components, and the majority of the device is comprised of artificial muscles and other organic tissue matter. During descent, it opens up safety wings to adjust descent angle, and opens a parachute near landing. After use, if put into decomposition mode, the oxygen distribution to the organic tissue matter is cutoff and most components decay or decompose. The remaining mechanical components are easy to eliminate.

Environment Based Camouflage

A technology which allows a Soldier to blend in with the surroundings to avoid enemy detection. The Special Scouts i Detachment use a spray containing nano-machines which use a complex algorithm to create camouflage patterns to fit the surroundings. Clovis and his Squad stole clothing from the local Soldiers, and sprayed the nano-machines over the clothing to achieve the camouflage effect and infiltrate their objective.

Tends to pair with Clavis and is almost like a partner. Even outside of missions, he tends to hang out with Clavis but he has a wife, Military Intelligence Special Scouts Detachment member.

Senate Majority Leader
The representative chosen by each party and Senator. He works closely with the President to determine the country's path from within the White House.
